Act 1, Scene 1 - A Country Home

A lovely yet bedraggled young girl takes a short break. She is startled back to reality when the lady brutally attacks the poor girl for not working hard enough. Left alone, the girl goes to her secret hiding place and retrieves a portrait of her father. She falls asleep and dreams the happy times with her father. Despite her hardship, Cinderella remains a sweet, considerate girl who dreams of one day being happy.

A beggar woman comes, Cinderella offer the old woman food and drink.

Scene 2 – The Palace

The King believes it is time for his son to marry, and arranges a ball to which every eligible girl will be invited for the Prince to choose.

Scene 3 – A local village

The Duke arrives at the village to announce the ball and hand out invitations to every girl, even Cinderella.

Scene 4 – Cinderella' s Parlor

When the Duke arrives at Cinderella house to hand out invitations, the stepsisters lock Cinderella away. Each of the stepsisters receives an invitation. They beg the Duke to give them a lesson.

As they are about to depart, she surprises them by pulling a dress from her secret hiding place. They are furious and grab it from her, ripping it in pieces. Cinderella is left home alone to cry.

The Fairy Godmother appears and promises to help Cinderella go to the ball. She magically transforms mice into horses and a pumpkin into a beautiful carriage to take her to the ball.

Act 2 – Scene 1 - The Palace

Dozens of beautiful young ladies arrive at the palace, the trumpeters announce the final guest. It is Cinderella, and how beautiful she is. The Prince is transfixed by her sweet innocence and intense beauty and dances with her the rest of the evening. While the King is making arrangements for a wedding, Cinderella's stepmother sneaks up close enough to recognize her. Cinderella is so frightened that she runs away from the palace.

Scene 2 – Cinderella' s house

Cinderella's stepsisters are gloating to Cinderella over the success with the Prince. When alone, Cinderella remembers her wonderful encounter the night before.

Scene 3 – A village

The Prince and the Duke are desperately searching for the girl who dropped the single shoe.

Scene 4 – Cinderella' s house

Tired and forlorn, the Duke and the Prince arrive at Cinderella's house. This is the last place for them to try the shoe. When the Stepmother sees who is at the door, she instructs her daughters to hide Cinderella. The Duke and Prince enter and each of the stepsisters tries in vain to make the shoe fit on their own foot. When it appears that there is not a single foot in the entire kingdom that will fit in the shoe, the Prince loses all hope. Suddenly, the Prince sees a shoeless foot sticking out from under a blanket. The Prince tries the shoe on the foot and it is a perfect fit. The Duke uncovers the hidden girl and reveals Cinderella. They live happily every after.
